Birdnest Software Inc. formed

(Houston, TX – December, 2002) A new company, incorporated as BirdNest Software, Inc. offers software focused on regulatory compliance and on-line report generation.

Drawing on their backgrounds in the oil and gas industry and e-government, co-founders Keith Frazier and Shelley Ryan designed a simple software tool for those users' with a heavy compliance reporting burden to have the ability to generate, manage and store compliance reports quickly and efficiently. Studies showed that 80% of the fines issued by the EPA for non-compliance were a result of inaccurate information or failure to report in a timely basis.

BirdNest helps environmental professionals stay on top of the multitude of permits and regulatory compliance activities of their work. This full-function module allows managers to log due dates and prioritize tasks with reminders set at chosen frequencies to ensure awareness and completion of activities. Reports are easy to create in order to view scheduled or outstanding activities, or to generate an audit trail for all task entries.
