

No Software to install and no equipment to buy to use BirdNest!

Customers

BirdNest Services was conceived with the help of operations and maintenance professionals, and executive management in the water industry. We built on their desires to improve the use of data from their field operations and more effectively

- reduce costs
- improve operational efficiency
- increase customer service
- improve accountability to consumers

These are the driving forces behind each BirdNest installation. We view each customer as a partner in business, and we work hard to build our relationships by helping our clients to achieve their business objectives. With a variety of service offerings we ensure our clients see value the day they start using BirdNest. These services include individual and group training, technical support, consulting services, and even custom software development if required.

“Our first conversation with BirdNest was three weeks ago and today our operators are using BirdNest to collect data. This was one of the fastest and easiest implementations we’ve experienced. BirdNest was with us every step of the way.”

Aaron Gutierrez, GIS Coordinator, Park Water Co, Downey, CA
